"We'll jump n' run, have such fun, we may wake the dead from their tombs."

Reminisce of spooky childhood adventures, get the kids excited for Trick or Treat, or simply Enjoy the Spooky Abstract art, fun poem, and Riddles in the back.

About the Author

A.L. Sullivan | A Love of Doodle-ing, Writing, and Reading Poetry has lead Author, A.L. Sullivan, to create her own works of imagination. A Rare Night Indeed: Halloween Coloring Book, is a spooky start to what she hopes will be many more books to come. With dreams of wings soaring in her mind, her next book can't be far behind!

Being a Wife and Mother creates constant sources of inspiration for her poetry, art, and music. A.L. studied poetry throughout school, attending Star Valley High School in Wyoming, English and Writing classes at Northwest College in Powell, Wyoming, and Poetry at Utah State University in Logan, Utah. Her love of the written word and artistic expression continues to grow every day.

A.L. Sullivan is now a Utah based author, artist, and poet.
